Publications List

September 2023

Notes

The Anglican Diocese of Sheffield was formed in 1914 and is divided into two Archdeaconries. The map shows the Parishes within the Archdeaconry of Doncaster at that time.

This publication list shows Parishes and other Collections that Doncaster & District Family History Society has transcribed and published in the form of Portable Document Files (pdf).

Downloads

Each Parish file etc with a reference number can be downloaded from the Internet using: www.genfair.co.uk (look for the Society under suppliers) at a cost of £6 each.

Postal Sales

The files can also be supplied by post on a USB memory stick. The cost is £10 each. The price includes the memory stick, one file and postage & packing. (The memory stick can be reused once you have loaded the files onto your own computer.)

Orders and payment by cheque through:

D&DFHS Postal Sales, 18 Newbury Way, Cusworth, Doncaster, DN5 8PY

Additional files at £6 each can be included on a single USB memory stick (up to a total of 4 files depending on file sizes).

Example: One USB memory stick with "Adlingfleet" Parish file Ref: 1091 = £10.

1st Additional file at £6: the above plus "Adwick le Street" Ref: 1112 = Total £16.

2nd Additional file at £6: "The Poor & the Law" Ref: 1125 = Total £22

Postage included.

We can also arrange payment by BACs, but for card and non-sterling purchases use Genfair

Ancestor Record Book

One of our most Useful Books for Beginners and Advanced Researchers
Take your records with you

This A4 sized book, newly revised for 2023, enables you to keep all your research results in one handy place. The centre pages of this 40 page book allows you to complete a tree going back 5 generations. Each individual then has their own numbered page to enter all the facts you may have collected around that person.

This includes a place to record births, marriages, deaths and the census returns for 1841 to 1921 and the 1939 Register on the individual pages.

You do not need a computer to use this book. It just requires good old-fashioned pen or pencil and your own research. It is really useful way of carrying the results of your existing knowledge on any research trip.

A Family Historian's Great War

To commemorate the centenary of the start of the Great War, D&DFHS has published this A4 sized booklet. It looks at subjects that will answer questions raised by people researching their family history during this period. It considers why your ancestors may have joined the army or stayed at home and assesses the impact this had on their families. It also explores attitudes to marriage and cohabitation and the numbers of children born in and out of wedlock.

There are a number of articles written by some of our members about their family's experiences of the war and a guide to enable you to research your own family, not just those men who served in the army
